Chicago Wilds

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Janesville Daily Gazette Information
Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Chicago, July 22.—A Chicagoan may now camp in an unspoiled wilderness of woodland where there are no fences or posted lands, where wild life is abundant, and still be close enough to the city to come to his work every morning in his machine or even on a street car.

The people of Chicago, as a part of their great scheme of city development, have put aside all of the timbered areas in Cook county as permanent forest preserves to serve as summer playgrounds. These areas they have stocked with game and fish, camp sites have been established, roads and paths built. The forests are open to the public at all times for camping, picnicking and hiking. They are in no sense parks, but are real wilderness. The total area of forest is over 100,000 acres, and several of the tracts are large enough and well enough to be used for purposes of getting lost.

Improves Opportunity.
Chicago has thus improved an opportunity which other cities are neglecting. Within 20 miles of many American cities there are large unspoiled areas, which for one reason or another, have escaped the sawmill and the plow. As population increases, these areas slowly decrease, in another generation, unless they are saved by law, they will be gone. Chicago has been far-sighted enough to save her nearly woodlands before it was too late.

There are half a dozen of these forests within Cook county. They comprise the forest preserve district of Cook county, but are administered under a municipal code, and belong to the city just as much as does Lincoln park. Two of them, the Palos and the Des Plaines, are nearly square areas of timber on high ground. The others are long narrow strips of timber in the valleys of the North, Milwaukee, Des Plaines, and Salt creek. The most distant is about 20 miles from the city limits, while the nearest may be reached on the street car in a five-cent fare. The latter has been planned which will make it easy to reach any of the forests by automobile, while it is believed that the traction companies will rapidly extend their lines toward these playgrounds. The lands bordering upon them are expected to become the city's most desirable suburban sections.

There are many spots of great natural beauty in these wilds of the city of Chicago. Some of the forest lands have never felt the ax. A maple tree four feet in diameter was recently reported by the chief forester.

Wild Life Finds Refuge.
These forests are a splendid natural refuge for wild life. Strangely enough, the most abundant game of the section is the mongolian pheasant, while the Hungarian partridge comes next. These beautiful exotics escaped years ago from a great game farm near Chicago, and became so abundant within 10 or 15 miles of the city that they have begun furnishing good sport. Hunting is prohibited on the city forest areas, and these will serve as game reservoirs to stock the surrounding country, so that Chicago game near home than those of many smaller cities. Rabbits and squirrels are also abundant in the city forests and are increasing under protection. The board of forest preserve commissioners has imported a large supply of quail from Texas and turned them loose in the forests, where there is even a herd of deer upon one of the areas. All birds nesting in the forests are now protected, but it is expected that a short open season for hunting may be sufficiently abundant. The board of forest preserve commissioners has decided that some hunters who refused the temptation which they offered and a special warden had to be detailed to enforce the law against hunting.

Artificial Lake Created.
On the Palatine an artificial lake has been created, which affords good swimming, and will supply splendid fishing in the near future. It has been stocked with small-mouth bass and bluegills. It is one of the finest bits of water for this fish in the state. It is intended to allow angling under permit as soon as the fish have become numerous.

Need for Game.
The amateur and professional, the forest preserves are a great boon. The Prairie club and other Chicago nature study clubs, regularly take long hikes in the forests, and the need for game is becoming more and more acute. It is intended to allow angling under permit as soon as the fish have become numerous.

While various classes and organizations have been made to appropriate these wild lands as their own particular stamping ground.
The need for game is becoming more and more acute. It is intended to allow angling under permit as soon as the fish have become numerous.

Children Don't Know Grass.
In Chicago's poorest quarters there are thousands of children who have never been outside the city, and who do not know that there is such a thing as soil covered with grass and trees instead of with cement and cobblestones. These are the children who live in the tenements and who have never seen the fresh air and exercise which the playgrounds can give them. Peter Reinberg, the president of the board of commissioners, has made it his special business to take these Chicago cockneys to the wild woods.

Every year he organizes a series of expeditions to a camp which has been built by the city in the heart of the forest preserves. Each of these camping trips lasts about 10 days, and some two hundred children and mothers from the poorest quarters of Chicago are taken to the parts of the city where fresh air is most needed, and especially from those places where bad air and undernourishment have given tuberculosis a hold in the camp the mothers and children are given all the fresh milk and eggs and vegetables that they can eat. There are hikes and camp fires and swimming parties. The camp is under the direction of a trained nurse and a physical director. Many a starveling child gets a new lease of life and a new conception of its beauty and joy in these camping trips. The city is taken only a few thousand can be taken each year, while there are hun-

NEGRO-WHITE CLASHES CONTINUE; LAST NIGHT'S CASUALTY HIGH.

BLACKS ATTACK WOMEN ON STREET

Desperados Fire Revolvers Into All Groups They Come Across.

Washington, July 22.—Congress was asked to take notice of the race riots and crime wave in the national capital today and President Wilson was asked to declare martial law and police the city with troops, in resolutions introduced in the house by Representative Charles C. Hoague, Democrat, of Colorado, respectively.

Representative Clark's resolution was a scathing arraignment of the local police and city government.

At the same time Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Democrat, introduced a resolution to separate the whites and blacks on the street cars.

By request of the police all merchants and pawn shops today ceased selling firearms.

Washington, July 22.—Another night of race rioting found the national capital today counting the largest casualty list it has had since the rioting started and the rioting began retreating on the negro population for the long list of daylight holdups and attacks on white women which has alarmed the city.

Evening dead, 12; mortally wounded, eight or more seriously wounded, an unknown number slightly wounded or injured in the fighting, and police stations were packed with others, and the result of the most disorderly times the national capital has seen probably since the civil war.

Police Unable to Order
Although reinforced with provost guards of troops and squadrons of cavalry patrolling Pennsylvania avenue, the police apparently were unable to cope with the situation as they were when during the celebrated demonstration of March 3, 1913, when the crowd completely overran them and all but mobbed the suffragists parading on Pennsylvania avenue.

The score of casualties in last night's fighting was largely in favor of the negroes who, when the extra strong cordons of police and troops were ordered to clear the streets, the downtown section, transferred their activities to the lesser guarded districts.

From trolley cars and swiftly moving automobiles, negro desperados fired shots into groups of whites whenever they found them, and all night there was scattered firing from houses in which negroes had barricaded themselves.

Martial Law Proposed
Local authorities are conferring with war department officials today on measures to stop the rioting. Suggestions are being made that troops be brought in to thoroughly guard the city, which would have been a task the police were unable to do because of insufficient numbers.

The dead include Detective Sergeant Harry Wilson, shot through the heart by a negro girl when he entered a house from which she was firing into the street.

Detective Bernard W. Thompson was seriously wounded by a negro in the same section of the city. Four negro men are dead and several others are believed to have been fatally wounded. Three patrolmen were included in the list of badly wounded.

Although two troops of cavalry from Fort Meyer had been called out to patrol the streets and four hundred marines from Quantico, and the Washington marine barracks had been added to the provost guard as a precaution against disorders, the situation at times last night was more than the authorities could cope with.

White Woman Assaulted
The first police report of the day told of another white woman assaulted and injured by a negro at Capitol Heights, a suburb. The negro loitered about the woman's house all yesterday. He was scared away, and then hid behind a hedge. He was shot as he passed by late last night.

The woman was practically disrobed in the struggle. Her assailant escaped after she had scratched and bitten him badly.

This was the seventh attack on white women by negroes in two weeks.

A bill for the separation of the races on street cars in the district of Columbia was introduced today by Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, who said he was prompted to offer the measure because of the race riots.

When some 175 cases of men arrested during the rioting, were sentenced to a year's imprisonment and $500 fines were imposed on all found carrying concealed weapons while those charged only with disorderly conduct escaped with $25 fines. In most cases jury trials were demanded.

HOUSE ISN'T CASTLE
London.—"After that I won't believe that an Englishman's house is his castle," exclaimed Samuel Brooks after he and his wife had been fined five shillings each for using bad language in the house so that the offensive words could be heard by passersby.

Chicago, July 22.—Official inquiry was started today by State's Attorney MacClay Hoyle to fix responsibility for the explosion and collapse of the dirigible, which fell through the roof of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank yesterday afternoon, killing 11 persons and injuring 26 others. United States District Attorney Charles C. Clyne also assigned an assistant United States attorney to attend the coroner's inquest set for today.

Seventeen employees of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron, Ohio, owners of the airship, have been detained pending a decision as to whether charges of criminal carelessness shall be filed against them.

Among those detained are Jack Boettner, pilot of the dirigible, who escaped by jumping with a parachute, and W. C. Young, in charge of the aeronautic department of the Goodyear company.

200 Girls at Work.
Of the 11 dead, five were employees of the bank and two were passengers in the airship. Five persons were in the airship at the time of the accident and three escaped. When the balloon crashed through the glass skylight of the bank, a two-story building, more than 200 employees, mostly girls, were at work.

Boettner, the pilot, who was taken to police headquarters, said he felt the machine buckle and there was a tremor throughout the fuselage. I know something had happened, but I saw the flames licking the bag. I shouted for all to jump and leaped out of the car. State street is blocks from where the airship fell.

The accident occurred shortly before 4 o'clock. The balloon with its five passengers was making its maiden trip above the city in the interest of an amusement park. According to newspaper reports, it appeared at the stern above the engine. In a moment there was a puff of smoke and the flames attacked the big egg shaped gas bag. The balloon burst into four wretched leaped from the airship. Three got clear of the burning craft, but the fourth was caught in the falling ship and was burned. One, a Miss Weaver, Akron, Ohio, plunged to death.

Body Burned to Crisp.
Earl Davenport, publicity man for the amusement park, and one time a sports writer, was hurled through the bank roof and burned to a crisp.

Harry Wacker, Akron, Ohio, chief mechanic of the dirigible, was one of those who came down alive. His back was broken, however, and he was not expected to live.

Milton C. Norton, a photographer employed by a Chicago newspaper, also landed, but in doing so his legs were broken and his condition is critical.

J. A. Boettner, civilian pilot, was the twelfth victim of the disaster. He was hurled from the airship to land without injury.

The twelfth victim of the disaster was Milton C. Norton, a photographer employed by a Chicago newspaper. He was hurled from the airship to land without injury.

New Devices Used, Charged.
Charges that several devices used on the giant blimp were used for the first time on a blimp will be investigated.

One device was a rotary motor loaned for the purpose by Major Clarence Maranville, chief of army air force, at the Akron, Ohio, flying field, who declared that while there was danger of fire in its use, he believed every precaution had been taken.

Another device said to have been used for the first time on a blimp was a number of silk balloons attached to the main body. Major Maranville said the friction of these balloons against the side of the structure may have been responsible for the accident.

Edward J. Fleming, assistant states attorney, said today after questioning a number of witnesses, that the rotary motor had never been used on a blimp. States Attorney Hoyle and Coroner Hoffman declared several officials of the Chicago office of the Good Year tire and rubber company probably would be taken into custody.

17 Detained As Witnesses.
Seventeen persons are detained at downtown hotels as witnesses.

Marcel C. Culpey, foreign exchange teller of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank, who was seriously burned when the blazing blimp crashed through the roof of the bank building, lapsed into unconsciousness early today and it is said he may die. All the others who were injured were expected to recover.

A coroner's jury of well known business men was empaneled. Coroner Hoffman also named a commission of six electrical engineers to act with the jury in an advisory capacity in fixing blame. These experts are expected to make a special inquiry in the charges that new devices were used for the first time.

Washington, July 22.—The prohibition enforcement bill, described by members opposing it as drastic enough to invite a presidential veto, finally passed today by the house.

The vote on the passage of the bill was 287 to 100 with three members voting present.

The vote was taken after a motion by Representative Igoe, Democrat, Missouri, to recommit the bill, had been defeated 255 to 136. Nearly every member of the house was in attendance and there was so much noise during the roll call that Republican Leader Mondell was recorded as supporting the Igoe motion. He was permitted to change his vote.

Wilson Is Turned Down In Senate
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, July 22.—In response to President Wilson's request that it approve provisional appointment of an American representative on the reparations commission to be created under the peace treaty, the senate foreign relations committee today adopted a declaration that until the treaty is ratified "no power exists" to carry out its provisions.

The declaration in the form of a resolution by Senator Knox, Republican of Nebraska, was adopted without a record vote, although the committee previously had divided 8 to 7 in favor of substituting the Knox proposal for one which would have left the question of the president's authority. In this vote Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, joined the demands of the negative.

A motion by Senator Hitchcock, Democrat of Nebraska, to add later a declaration of the president's power to act, was lost 9 to 6, Senator McCumber voting with the Republicans.

Under the treaty the reparations commission would have wide power in fixing the reparation to be demanded of Germany and the president had written the committee that he considered it important to American business interests that the United States be represented.

After it had adopted Senator Knox's resolution the committee resumed its preliminary reading of the treaty text.

NO PROSECUTION FOR 50 AMERICAN DEATHS IN MEXICO--FLETCHER
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, July 22.—Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, today told the house rules committee that since his appointment three years ago 50 Americans had been killed in Mexico without a single prosecution being made by the Mexican authorities.

Replying to questions by Chairman Campbell, Ambassador Fletcher said withdrawal of recognition of the Carranza government by the United States would only increase the turmoil in the southern republic. He added that he did not know of any revolution leader capable of establishing a permanent government.

Ambassador Fletcher said he had not noticed any special anti-American feeling in Mexico and explained that the presence of more American citizens there than other foreigners probably accounted for the greater number of outrages affecting Americans.

The ambassador was summoned before the committee in connection with a resolution introduced by Representative Gould, Republican, New York, proposing appointment of a joint congressional committee to investigate relations between this country and Mexico.

Mr. Fletcher repeatedly declined to express opinions upon conditions in the southern republic, insisting that he furnish only facts.

"Do you regard the situation in Mexico as improved in the last three years?" asked Chairman Campbell.

"Oh, yes," was the quick reply.

"In what respect?"

"Columbus has not been raided," the ambassador answered.

She Helped War Babies
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Evansville, July 21.—Did Mrs. Vivian Main, wife of Floyd Main, for many years telegraph operator for the Northwestern railroad in this city, kill herself?

Shortly after 6 o'clock last night her husband drove his car into their camp at Gibbs lake and announced to his mother-in-law that his wife had shot herself. One thing is certain, however, and that is that Mrs. Main died from a gun shot wound from a 26 automatic revolver. The bullet struck the heart, punctured the left lung and came out of the back. According to Mr. Main, death was instantaneous.

According to the story told by Mr. Main, he went to the lake after work and asked his wife to get in the machine and ride up to the Norby farm where they buy their butter and eggs, and get the water.

Drove to Farm
Mrs. Main went to the farm with her husband and while there purchased a dozen eggs and got a pail of water. Her husband claims that on the return trip to camp his wife stood up in the car and shot herself.

Acting District Attorney Charles Pierce, Sheriff Fred Beley and Coroner Lynn Whaley were called and a post mortem was held on her arrival.

Mr. Main was questioned for several minutes by Mr. Pierce and Sheriff Beley. He told the sheriff that he did not remember the car being stopped for the time they left the Norby farm until the camp was reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Norby, however, assert that the car was stopped about a half a mile from the Norby farm for at least 15 or 20 minutes.

When first questioned by the sheriff Main became stubborn and announced that there were some things he was not going to tell anyone. He didn't care who it was. He was later convinced that it would be better for him to tell the full story and after a conference with Mr. Pierce which lasted for nearly an hour Main was released.

She Was Always Happy
Although in poor health for some time, Mrs. Main has been in the best of spirits and Mrs. Main claimed that she was always happy when she came to the farm each day.

According to the story told by Mrs. Norby, the couple arrived at the farm before six o'clock and Mrs. Main asked if she could purchase a dozen eggs.

"I noticed at that time that she looked pale and Mr. Main was far from being as pleasant as he usually is," Mrs. Norby said.

Mrs. Norby said that after the eggs were received that Mrs. Main told her husband of the purchase and without making any answer he walked to the other side of the machine and dropped the money in Mrs. Norby's hand.

Says Car Stopped
They then started for the lake according to Mrs. Norby and after traveling about half the distance the car stopped. One of the Norby children said he heard them talking loud but he could not hear what they were saying.

Late. Later Mrs. Norby started for the wheat field with some water for Mr. Norby and saw the car standing in the road. She asked her husband if the people had a blow out and he told her they had been standing there for several minutes.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Norby saw Mrs. Main arise as if attempting to get out of the machine. They assert that her husband threw her back in the car and started at a rapid pace toward the lake.

Coroner Lynn Whaley has ordered no inquest to be held in Evansville, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The following jury has been selected, James Van Patten, W. Heron, R. E. Gavey, W. J. Stewart, Paul Paulson and Frank Sperry.

Mrs. Main was 24 years old. She was the mother of two children, Betty, aged 4, and Floyd, Jr., aged 2. She had been in poor health for a number of years. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Walter Gollmar and one brother, Fred McCart, who has just returned from overseas.

ALLIED LEADER PLANS ADVANCE ON BUDAPEST
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Vienna, Saturday, July 12. (Delayed).—General Franchet d'Espèray, commander of the allied forces in the near east, announces that he is preparing an advance on Budapest, the Hungarian capital, with 150,000 troops. The army is made up of French colonials, Rumanians, Jugoslavs, Italians and Hungarians. The Hungarians are commanded by Gen. Krotchko.

"Neither can we find here any confirmation of the prediction that the treaty will be written in disregard of the old order of the balance of power and with no element of national commercial greed. All the elements of greed, national suspicion and jealousy are only too evident in almost every article of the treaty."

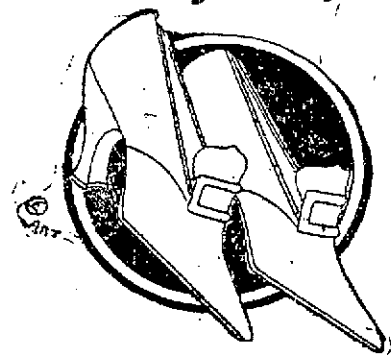

Commerce Sum Edipso.

"In short the sun of commercial expansion in which Germany sought a place passes into total eclipse behind this treaty, and the shackles with which she is to be manacled in her obscurity have been forged with meticulous care by the forward looking men with whom the president was privileged to co-operate at Paris but whose co-operation was strictly limited to looking out for themselves, while

ARMY RECRUITERS HERE TILL WEDNESDAY

The local recruiting office, now stationed on the second floor of the postoffice, will remain open until Wednesday, when the party under the direction of Lieut. J. J. Reilly, will leave for Chicago, for a new assignment. They have been all over the state of Wisconsin and Janesville is their last stop. Until a few days ago, all men without previous service had to join for a period of three years, with the privilege of choosing any camp or post in the world. Now men without previous service may join the medical or quartermaster corps for a term of one year, with the selection of any camp or post in the United States. There is also a special service for bandmen. Men who have had previous training may enlist for one year and choose any camp in the United States.

PHILIPP VETOES SOLDIER EDUCATIONAL BILL AS CLASS LEGISLATION

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, July 22.—Gov. E. L. Philipp sent a veto to the senate today of the Nye bill providing for the compensation of $30 a month to returned soldiers attending the higher institutions of learning. Governor Philipp says there is no information upon which to base an estimate as to how many of these soldiers would avail themselves of the opportunity and that he will at once direct Adjutant General Holway to make a survey of the problem. He says he will also consult educational authorities, including the state board of education, as to how to best meet situations of an educational standard nature that may arise under the bill.
"The project of sufficient importance," says Gov. Philipp's veto, "to warrant the calling of a special session of the legislature. In that, however, I shall be guided by the results of our inquiries among the soldiers and the findings and recommendations of the state board of education."
The veto of the Nye bill is one of the most exhaustive that has been sent to the legislature this year.
"I look upon this bill as class legislation within the meaning of our constitution and I believe it to be wrong in principle because it does not offer equal opportunities to the men who have given like service," continued the veto. "If we are to think of the educational needs of our young men, we cannot stand in the way of this educational privilege which the legislature seeks to give the soldier. However, if the state is going to grant this privilege it should be extended to all who wish to take advantage of it, regardless of their educational qualifications."
The age of the soldier and sailor ranges from 17 to 45. No doubt many who would wish to take advantage of the offer would find it necessary to go into grades that are attended largely, if not entirely, by boys and girls under the age of 15. We cannot reasonably expect that the state would have rendered military service would wish to share the school room with young children, nor would it be practical that they do so from the standpoint of the school.
"No inquiry has been made and no one seems to know how many men would take advantage of this bill as it is now written nor has any investigation been made, as far as I am able to learn, to determine how many of this class of students can be accommodated at the university or other institutions named with this educational state that the accommodations made to these institutions will permit them to employ."

No Train Schedules Are Furnished With This Story

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
Washington, W. Va.—There is enough whiskey in this town to give every inhabitant a pint each, officials state. It's doing the thirsty no good, however, as it is in the Ohio county jail. In all there have been 2,000 gallons of whiskey, of which 1,200 was taken in one raid by federal officers, the remainder being taken from persons bringing it from west territory just before prohibition became effective in Ohio and West Virginia. The whiskey, which is valued at $54,000, would give two-ounce drinks to 120,000 thirsty, it is estimated.
George Phillips, state law enforcer, has returned from Montgomery county, where he arrested 42 men and one woman for bringing booze from Pennsylvania, capturing, among other things, 47 quarts and 210 pints left on trains by persons who feared capture. Hundreds of gallons of booze were found in other spots.

CHICAGO FORESTS OFFER OUTDOOR LIFE TO CITY RESIDENTS

dreds of thousands of children who have never breathed anything but Chicago's notorious smoke.
Work Is Just Begun
Those who have charge of Chicago's forest playgrounds emphasize the fact that they have just begun their work. The forests will not come into their full usefulness, in the first place, until transportation to them has been extended and improved. Meanwhile, the board of commissioners is making all kinds of improvements. As springs are somewhat scarce, they are drilling wells to supply the campers with water. One golf links has been laid out and others are contemplated. Another artificial lake is being made on the Peles forest and wild rice is being planted in the Palatine lake to attract the wild fowl, which have already appeared in considerable numbers.
The time will come, no doubt, when these forest areas will be oases of coolness and fresh air within this titanic city, which seems to have no limit of growth, and then they will be worth many times what they have cost.

ENGLISH COMMONS APPROVE TREATIES

London, July 22.—At what was virtually an all night session, the house of commons completed its consideration of both the German peace treaty and the Anglo-French convention.
The bill carrying approval of the German treaty was considered in committee of the whole, exciting lengthy debate, in which Premier Lloyd George took an active part. The bill was then placed before the house and passed its third reading, after a motion by John Devlin to reject it as a protest against the premier's attitude towards Ireland, had been defeated, 182 to 4.
Then, at 3 a. m., the Anglo-French peace was taken up and the bill approving it unanimously adopted after a short but sharp debate, in which the argument that the treaty was inconsistent with the spirit of the league of nations failed to find substantial echo.
The German treaty passed through all its stages without amendment.
In concluding his speech on the treaty, Premier Lloyd George while making no claim of perfection for it, expressed confidence that the league of nations, notwithstanding its imperfections, the premier declared the treaty would stand as a "lighthouse" and a warning to nations against the peril which the German empire shattered itself against.

FARMERS CAN BUY WESTERN CATTLE

Rock County farmers who wish to purchase live stock from the drought stricken areas of Montana, Idaho and Wyoming, are advised by K. L. Hatch director of the extension department of agriculture in Madison, to make arrangements for someone to go up to the region where the cattle are for sale. R. T. Glasco, the county agent, is willing to make arrangements for those men who desire to purchase stock.
All farmers who desire to test their soil for acidity may have the work done by R. T. Glasco, county agent. A cupful of soil is sufficient for the sample. It must, however, be a representative sample, that is it must contain samples of the soil from more than one part of the field. Two samples are necessary if the low and high land is to be tested as the acidity varies with the altitude of the land. From the test the county agent can determine the amount of lime which will be necessary to correct the acidity.
Many applications are made to Mr. Glasco for positions during the harvest season. Any farmer desiring help during harvesting may secure help by applying to the county agent's office in the court house.

TEACHERS' PENSION INCREASE IS VETOED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, July 22.—Gov. E. L. Philipp intended to leave the teachers' pension law as it is until the special legislative committee has made its investigation is shown by two vetoes sent to the senate today. The scope of the fund. He will sign the bill which will reduce the annuities of the fund 15 per cent beginning with Sept. 1. The teachers' pension law is one of the kind of legislation that every teacher in the state outside of Milwaukee must contribute to the support of the fund. The first bill to be vetoed by the governor would have reduced the annuities of the fund to 10 per cent of the normal salary, the county training schools, and the county schools of agriculture and domestic economy to the list of teachers eligible under the teachers' retirement fund.
"It would in my judgment be unwise, and in fact unfair, to the teachers named in this bill," said the governor's veto, "to exact contributions from them to a fund that is rapidly being depleted and is therefore unable to comply with the obligations it assumes. The entire plan must be revised and thought in mind the legislature appointed an interim committee, to report to the next legislature."
Governor Philipp also vetoed the bill which sought to make changes in the administration of the teachers' retirement fund and would take from the common school fund $3,000 to pay a part of the cost of administration.
"The present teachers' retirement fund is not upon a sound basis," says Governor Philipp. "The liabilities to the present annuitants amount to approximately $1,231,000, while the present assets or available funds amount to about $552,000, leaving a deficit of $679,000 on the basis of the present annuities alone. To pay the annuities to the prospective annuitants that are to mature when the teachers arrive at the specified age or on completing the required number of years for maturing their annuities. A rough estimate will place the total deficit at probably not less than $2,000,000."

FRANCE WAITS ACTION ON CONFIDENCE VOTE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, July 22.—In readiness to hear the government's declaration of its policy, on which it had been asked, the chamber of deputies met this morning. Premier Clemenceau, it developed, was not ready to make his statement at the morning session and the chamber adjourned until afternoon to await the premier's pleasure.
There was much interest in expected developments of the day to which great importance was attached, as it was expected the motion for an interpellation of the government on its general policy which M. Francois Poirier, independent socialist, had given, might precipitate an animated debate.

S. A. DRIVE STARTS OUT WITH NEW VIGOR

At 9 o'clock this morning the various captains and their teams started out from the Chamber of Commerce to canvass the city for subscriptions for the Salvation Army Home Service fund. The committee in charge, hope to clean up the work of canvassing the city. This is the first day that the women have worked. A captain has been appointed for each ward. They in turn have appointed their lieutenant helpers.
Edgerton and Evansville have reported that the work in the cities is progressing. They expect to finish up the canvass this week.

R. C. Sends Clothes to Refugee Children

The Rock county chapter of the Red Cross of this city and the different branches, located in Evansville, Milton, Milton Junction, La Prairie, Johnston and Rock, have received 215 sweaters, 150 pairs of stockings and 60 mufflers for the refugee children of Belgium and France. They were shipped today to the central division at Chicago.

Girls' Clothes Shocking, Says This "Miss" of 80

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
North Brookfield, Mass.—Modern young women's gowns are the height of indecency and are worn only for the purpose of displaying shapely limbs, according to Miss Hazel Wilson. "Morality never existed," said Miss Wilson, "and these light-headed girls," said Miss Wilson, who admits to being past 80, and declares that the older she grows the more shocking sights she sees. She also took issue with the idea that country people are morally more pure than those of the cities.

Robber Suspect Killed in Clash With Detectives

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Sioux City, Ia., July 22.—A suspected robber was killed, two other men seriously injured, and Detective James Britten, former chief of police, probably fatally wounded in a pistol fight between detectives and robber suspects in a restaurant here today.

Youthful Messenger for Bank Robbed of Big Roll

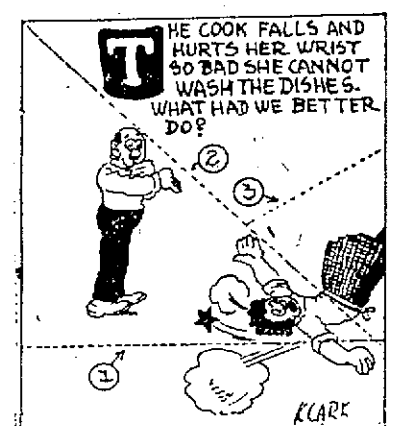

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Chicago, July 22.—Two automobile bandits held up Philip Fleming, 18-year-old messenger for the Austin National bank, today, escaping with $20,000 in cash, $400 in Liberty bonds and $35,000 in checks, half of which are negotiable.

A DIME TO STOP NATIONAL ANTHEM

Philadelphia—Magistrate Howard S. Stillwagon gave "Tony," a burly, grumpy, 18-year-old boy, a hard lesson today. He was charged with playing "The Star Spangled Banner" at Ardmore, so that "people could get their work done."
Tony had only five "records" including the National Anthem. He said that what he had in the business section of Ardmore everybody had to lay off work and stand up every few minutes.
Finally the Magistrate took a hand. "People around here want to get some work done," he called to Tony, "play 'The Star Spangled Banner' just once and let it go at that. If you don't I'll put you in jail for life or something. Here, take this dime and beat it."

50 PUBLIC BODIES BEGIN WORK ON RATS

London—Thirty-seven county boroughs, thirty-five county councils and eight leading port authorities have decided to wage a systematic warfare against rats.
In spite of the fact that more than a million and a half rats have been destroyed by the Port of London sanitary authorities the number of rats in the dock are increasing at an alarming rate. Similar conditions are reported at other ports and inland points are affected.
The Board of Agriculture is supplying the rat fighting organizations with expert assistance, poisons and traps.

250 MEN SPEED UP
WORK ON BUILDING
MAMMOTH FOUNDRY

With some 250 men on the job, dirt flying fast, and hammers cracking preliminary work on the mammoth new foundry of the Samson tractor company was begun last week by the J. E. Cullen Construction company. The only drawback to more speed is the lack of labor.

"We have between 250 and 300 men working now but we can use double that many," said Mr. Cullen today. "More men are being put on the job daily and we figure it will not be long before we will have a force of nearly 500 in action."

The vast amount of preliminary work necessary before actual erection of the building containing more than 180,000 square feet of floor space is fully recognized by the contracting company. Construction of additional barracks in which to house and feed the workers, building of warehouses, and temporary tool sheds is well under way.

The atmosphere of noisy industrial activity so prevalent throughout the entire area of construction is an impressive sight to the scores of people who daily visit the plant.

SERVICE MEN MAY OBTAIN EQUIPMENT
NOT ISSUED THEM

Janesville men who failed to receive the full uniform clothing and equipment allotted to each service man upon his discharge from the army will be interested to know that it is now possible for them to obtain a re-issue of the articles they desire.

According to information received by the Gazette today from Congressman Clifford E. Randall, any enlisted man who served in any army during the present war since April 6, 1917, and who has returned to the government any of the regular equipment given to discharged soldiers, or to whom for any reason they were never issued, may make application for these articles to the Supplies Division, office of the Director of Storage, Munitions building, Washington, D. C., and the articles will be sent to him.

Application blanks may be secured by writing to Congressman Randall, at Washington.

The following articles of clothing and equipment may be obtained: 1 overcoat; 1 service cap (for all enlisted men who have had service overseas); or 1 hat and 1 hat cord for all other enlisted men; 1 olive drab shirt; 1 service coat and ornaments; 1 pair breeches; 1 pair shoes; 1 pair leggings; 1 waist belt; 1 sash; 1 overcoat; 2 suits underwear; 4 pairs stockings; 1 pair gloves; 1 gas mask and helmet (if issued overseas); 1 burrack bag; 2 scarlet chevrons; and 1 set toilet articles (if in possession when discharged).

Application should state sizes and must be accompanied by affidavit setting forth record of services.

Officers and enlisted men who have returned the gas mask or helmet may make similar application for these articles and they will be re-issued.

LOCAL MAN KILLED
AT SAME CROSSING
OVER 40 YEARS AGO

Just 40 years and one day, before William Berger was fatally injured when a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train struck an automobile in which he was riding, Nathaniel Case, one of the pioneer residents of Janesville, was killed by a Northwestern passenger train at the same crossing in Monterey.

Mr. Case was riding in a buggy accompanied by Malcolm Jeffris, who was seriously injured. They were returning to the city after a visit in the country and did not notice the approach of the train until on the track.

Mr. Case was instantly killed and Mr. Jeffris luckily escaped death.

BOYS LEND HELPING HAND ON BATHING PIERS

Last evening the work of constructing the piers for the fourth bathing beach began. Mr. J. H. Hill stated this morning that if a number of men or boys will contribute their services for two of three evenings this week, the beach will be in readiness by Sunday. The construction work is under the supervision of Herman Lucke. Mr. Hill will also be on hand to assist in the work this evening.

Two bath houses, one for the women and one for the boys, must be erected before the beach can be opened. Yesterday several bays between the ages of 16 and 18 years, spent the day dragging the river opposite the beach, so that it will be free from all refuse.

All persons who can do so are asked to assist in the work this evening.

CITY GAINS FAME AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE

That Janesville is looked upon as being one of the most forward cities in the country in co-operative development, is the advice received today from Manager Frank J. Green of the local Chamber of Commerce, who is present attending the annual summer school of the National Chamber of Commerce at Eagles Mere Park, Pa. Mr. Green will deliver an address on housing before commercial association secretaries from all over the country at the Thursday morning session. He will tell of Janesville's co-operative work in meeting problems by anticipation.

"All are deeply interested in Janesville," writes Manager Green. "The various forms and publications of the chamber, including the housing plan and the annual report, are all on display here."

He expects to return to Janesville to resume his work Monday.

Delicate Mechanism

Despite its scope, Swift & Company is a business of infinite details, requiring infinite attention.

Experienced men must know livestock buying with a knowledge of weight, price, the amount and quality of meat the live animals will yield.

Each manufacturing operation must be done with expert skill and scientific precision. A highly perishable product must be handled with speed and care to avoid loss.

Chemists, engineers, accountants, and other specialists are required to take care of our intricate problems.

Alert wisdom and judgment must be used in getting stocks of goods into the open channels of demand through our four hundred branch houses. Branch house organizations must show activity and energy to sell at the market in the face of acute competition from other large packers, and hundreds of small ones.

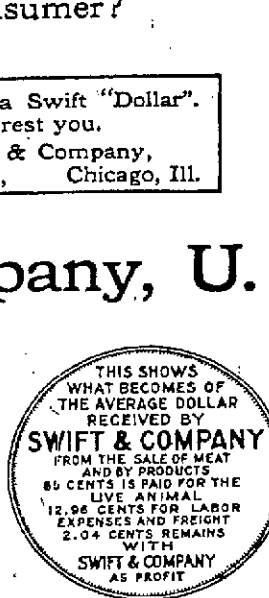

All these requirements of intelligence, loyalty, devotion to the task, are met in the personnel of Swift & Company. Yet the profit is only a fraction of a cent per pound, with costs at minimum.

How can the workings of this delicate human mechanism be improved upon?

Do you believe that Government direction would add to our efficiency or improve the service rendered the producer and consumer?

News Notes from Movieland

By DAISY DEAN

Mary Pickford is going to retire. It is, her mother says she is, and she has the heart to doubt the word of the mother of such a popular daughter.

Only nine more pictures and Mary will settle down to enjoy the fruits of her hard-earned savings. The way she is going to do it is by putting it in the hands of her talented daughter's picture.

It will take a number of months to complete the present pictures contracted for on the part of Mary. Mary is going to settle down to enjoy as I have entreated her for a long time to do.

Present Miss Pickford is busy painting a full length portrait of her father, by Mattia Sandona, a well known Italian portrait painter. The picture is to be in the life-size. Little Mary will not be idle the days she is in.

Miss Pickford will pose two hours a day until the portrait is completed, which will probably require six weeks. While posing she will direct her business as if she were in her dressing room office. A telephone connection between Pickford and her studio with stationery and telephone blanks, and a stenographer will be at her disposal while Sandona is at work. This is Mary's first offering. She is before posed for a painting.

WEDDING ENGAGED—... Jimmy Wehlen admitted her engagement to Lieutenant Parks, just as she left Los Angeles recently. Wehlen, Lieutenant Parks and sister motored to San Francisco in Lieutenant's car and it is understood that the wedding ceremony will take place in the near future.

WILL MUST PAY—... Carl Williams, the film star, will be to pay Roman Empire, the actress, $50,000 as a result of a suit given to the latter in her suit of $100,000 for breach of promise. In October Williams was married to Florence Walls, and the action the result of the announcement of the marriage.

WING A PLANE—... Mary asked the popular "Flying Girl" star, Margarita Fisher, to christen the A-4228 and the A-4229, two of the best naval planes ever built. That little lady was hard at work in the scenes for her forthcoming production, "The Tiger Lily," that she has no time to don summer finery in quaint Italian costume—car-no great change in the condition of the American merchant seamen brought by the war is the manner in which the boy taking his first voyage, and the veteran of many sea voyages as well, are cherished by the thoughtful ministrations of American women. The war has been brought about very early through the efforts of women who have given strength to help American boys.

rs. Henry Howard of Boston and Oklahoma, Mass., is one of these. She volunteered to the harbor of the war to see that the thousands of American boys who chose the sea should be given before sailing or returning from their voyages the best company and counsel that could be given. Her thoughtful and motherly aid could provide for them. The field in which Mrs. Howard's work was done at first was that of centers created at the various shipping stations.

Another woman is Mrs. Jeanette Pol, who is known by many a U. S. boy as "Mother McColl." She has it her duty to care for the sailor who is in trouble. At present she is in Washington in behalf of the boys who are being befriended. It is Mrs. McColl that the sailors in New York and the vicinity first think when they are under arrest, court-martialed, out of funds or in any other state of trouble. At present she is particularly interested in the sailor who has been accused of stealing from the government.

One of the women who hope that some day they will be enlarged to national and that it will even go farther than that and follow the sailor and foreign ports so that a social center and a welfare director greet every far in every port.

CHIEF NURSE OVERSEAS—... Miss Fitzgerald, a graduate of the Hospital Training school, just been appointed chief nurse Europe for the American Red Cross.

She won distinction in Marsh, 1917, as a committee of Boston citizens sent her to England as the "Edith Memorial nurse." She served the British forces during the war in memory of the English heroines Fitzgerald remained with the army in base and field hospitals until the entry of the United States into the war, when she served her transfer to the American Red Cross. For her work with the British, Miss Fitzgerald was awarded the medal of the Royal Red Cross of Great Britain.

With the American Red Cross Miss Fitzgerald served in Italy and France.

WOMEN GET TRADE DEGREES.
Women hereafter are to be admitted to the commerce degree of London university on the same terms as men. It was announced recently. This is expected to make for a notable advance of women in business, for they now are able to qualify as directors and partners in corporations.

HERE AND THERE
The number of women ministers in this country is estimated at 1,000. Before the war there were 454,000 women factory workers in France.

This number was nearly doubled during the period of hostilities. During 1918 there were employed in the metals, machinery and cotton spinning trades in Great Britain over 800,000 women.

Nearly 30 percent of the workers in North Carolina cotton mills are females.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Should a girl let a fellow kiss her before engaged? Is it proper?

(2) Should she accept a wrist watch from a boy she has known for six years, but has never gone with until of late?

(3) Please tell me what a girl should do to be respected?

BROWN EYES.

(1) It is not proper for a girl to let a fellow kiss her before engaged. She must not give in to him. A wrist watch is jewelry, and it is not permissible to accept jewelry from a young man unless the girl is engaged to him or he is a relative of hers.

(2) To be respected a girl should always try to do the thing which is the best of her knowledge is right. It is easy to rebel the small voice of conscience by refusing to listen to it time after time. But when need is given to fight and wrong the conscience becomes trained, and it is easy to see right from wrong.

There are a few obvious "don'ts" if you want to be respected:

(1) Don't rouse and powder heavily.

(2) Don't chew gum.

(3) Don't laugh and talk loudly.

(4) Don't talk to men before formally introduced.

(5) Don't permit men to make love to you.

(6) Don't talk about vulgar subjects.

(7) Don't wear extreme styles and colors in clothes.

If you are confident of your own judgment in doing what is right and live up to your ideals, people will respect you. You must have faith in yourself to be respected.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 21 years old. A young man has kept steadily company with me for nine months and he has told me several times that he loves me, but he never speaks of marriage.

Now another young man wishes to come to see me, but my other friend says I have no right to let any one but him come to see me. I say I have, as I am not engaged.

Which of us is right?

WORRIED.

You are right. Let the other young man come to see you. The first young man has no right to tell you to let him come to see you. He is not your friend. He is only a friend of yours. He is not your friend. He is only a friend of yours. He is not your friend. He is only a friend of yours.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I think a great deal of a man and he says he loves me also. But he is not the type to show it unless asked.

How shall I govern myself in order to have him show his affection? I am a type who wants attention. PLEASE.

You and the young man do not seem suited to each other. If you always have to make him show affection for you, you will not be happy with him. Also if he has to be affectionate when he does not want to, he will not be happy with you.

Perhaps if you leave the matter entirely to him and do not make any effort to make him show his love, he will do so of his own accord. Try this, and if he still remains cold, give up hope of affection from him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What can I do or say to make my finger nails grow fast and what can I do so they will not break off so easily?

IN DOUBT.

To grow manure, wear nails daily and keep the cuticle well pushed back and keep it growing faster. Every night rub the nails with sweet oil or olive oil and they will toughen and break less easily. At the same time they will become smoother and prettier from the oil.

A CHANCE TO LIVE

BY ZOE BECKLEY

THE NEWS.

It must be told now, thought Annie, and here in the dim spring night on the river would be a sweet time and place. Bashfully and haltingly she imparted her secret and waited for her eyes stung bright for his answer.

"Not Bernie," Annie shouted. "You don't mean it! Well, for God's sake!"

It was not the ideal response, but Annie made allowance for his surprise.

"But you're glad, aren't you. Don't you—terribly, terribly glad?"

He was silent, rowing fast. As they crossed a gleam of light from an open window drew Annie's eyes upon her face a look of—what was it, annoyance? Disappointment? Annie repeated, "You're glad, aren't you?" her spirits a little quenched.

"Well, it busts up the whole trip, doesn't it?"

"I couldn't go," faltered Annie. "How she longed for him to say 'Darling girl! What do we care about canoe trips!' as wonderful as never was so happy!" But he was silent and rowed jerkily, his mind elsewhere, while Annie with heavy heart was groping for answers to his half-hearted and fearful. Bernie turned round presently and rowed back to the club house.

As he helped Annie from the skiff and saw the troubled look in her eyes he felt suddenly ashamed in his arms and kissed her.

SIDE TALKS

—By— RUTH CAMERON

WHO IS THE TRUE DEMOCRAT?

There is a certain woman whom I admire very deeply but whom I sometimes hear criticised as undemocratic and snobbish because she makes friends of comparatively few people. She lives in a small hotel and many of the guests call her snobbish and snobbish and disagreeable because she never reaches any intimacy with them.

I call that unjustifiable. And yet it is a rather common attitude. Indeed, I think there was a time in my life when, meeting this woman casually, would have made similar criticisms. Economical in Casual Friendships.

But I think now that I would have been a little more open to call one's own. I come to realize that one must claim the right to spend it carefully. No one blames the person who is careful about spending money on little things and saves for bigger pleasures. Why, then, should anyone blame the person who prefers to be economical in his casual friendships?

One cannot be friends with everyone. One must pick and choose those who interest one the most, appeal the most to one's personality. And one should grant only the same privilege without calling them snobbish or undemocratic.

Why Should He Take Them?

When a man who lived at this hotel started out on his morning or a trip one day, I heard some of the guests saying to each other that it was a pity he wouldn't invite someone to go to the trip with him (mouthing some of themselves). Well, why should he? None of those people appealed to him. Why should he endure two or three hours of their companionship? Of course, if they had been people who never had a chance to ride in machines, that would have been quite another matter. But they weren't. So what possible obligation was there for him to all his seats with people for him? He cared nothing? Yet they branded him snobbish because he didn't.

Of course, one should be courteous and friendly to everyone with whom one is thrown into contact. It takes no more time to say "Good Morning" or "Good Day" and smile than to pass with carefully averted gaze.

The Difference Between Friendship and Friendly Feelings.

But while one can have a friendly feeling towards almost everyone, one cannot be friends with more than a few.

To be courteous to all with whom one is thrown into contact; not to look down upon people because they have no money; not to look up to people (or oneself) just because they have money; to respect brains, ability, character and breeding wherever one finds them, no matter what the work or the station of him in whom one finds them—these are, as I see it, the marks of the true democrat, rather than the habit of casual friendships.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE

RICKETS is a condition of faulty nutrition of all the tissues of the body including the blood and the bones and the nervous system.

The majority of children in the poorer sections of our cities show more or less evidence of rickets. Most of the defective teeth seen in negro children in the poorer section of the city are caused by rickets, due to the lack of fresh milk in feeding.

Signs of rickets rarely appear before the sixth month, and seldom fail to appear before the second year if the disease develops at all. Like scurvy, rickets is often encountered in the families of the wealthy, where abundance and convenience instead of ignorance and care determine the feeding of infants.

Lack of the vitamins furnished in fresh milk, unduly prolonged breast feeding (nursing action of nursing by the mother), continued use of cow's milk by an expectant mother, failure to add fresh fruit juices and strained cooked vegetables and fresh meat broths to the diet of a baby in the third, sixth and ninth months respectively, and lack of sufficient sunlight and open air are causes of rickets. It is suggested that rickets never occurs in young animals in nature, though it is often seen in young animals in captivity. When fresh milk, poundage and cod liver oil were added to the meat diet of lion cubs in a zoo great deal, particularly about the head. The head looks too large, the frontal eminences being prominent. The teeth are slow to appear. Digestive difficulties of all kinds are present, the abdomen is large, the chest is likely to be narrow or show a funnel-shaped depression or "collar breast." The wrists and ankles are thickened, the child is slow to creep, sit erect or walk, there is nervous irritability and peevishness and restlessness, perhaps the child even with hands or feet, fever is often present and later in childhood knock-knees, bow-legs, polio-belly, spinal curvature and other bony or developmental deformities appear.

A child with rickets is prone to suffer from convulsions from trifling causes.

The prevention of rickets is, first, breast feeding; second, feeding with properly modified fresh milk if breast feeding is impossible; third, the addition of fruit juices, pulp or cooked vegetables and fresh meat broths at the proper time; fourth, open air and sunshine.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A remedy suggested for burning feet. If the elderly gentleman troubled with burning feet at night will try rubbing them with vasoline and then bandaging them in cotton, he will find great relief. I am afflicted with the same trouble, which has many times prevented sleep, and in this way I always find relief.

Ten Pounds Per Month.

Your Karell treatment is great—I send twenty-five dollars to you and one-half month. Now I am anxious to know how you will send instructions. I expect the family will think I am a millionaire when I land. Many thanks for your help with the reduction regime.

ANSWER.—Complete words and music for the rolls will be sent on receipt of request accompanied with stamped, addressed envelope.

Our One-Sided Education.

Although I have tried hard to make my 4-year-old boy use his right hand, he seems inclined to use the left hand when writing or eating. It seems awkward for him to use his right hand. I wonder if heredity is concerned. I have three left-handed children or there may have been a family trait. Is it a mother's fault that a child is born left-handed? (Mrs. T. C.)

ANSWER.—Approximately 10 per cent of children are naturally left-handed, and it is not abnormal. I do not know that heredity has anything to do with it. Right-handedness is a habit, if not a weakness. Teach the boy to use either hand for writing or other fine work. Two-handedness is a great advantage in life. Two-handed individuals are endowed with better, more capable minds than one-handed individuals as a rule.

TESTED RECIPES.

Raspberry Pudding—Two cups flour, one and one-half tablespoons baking powder, two and one-half tablespoons shortening, one teaspoon salt, one cup milk, one egg, raspberries.

Sift the dry ingredients together. Work in the shortening and mix to a soft dough with milk. Add egg, well beaten. Spread a thin layer in a buttered pan, cover with an inch layer of black or red raspberries, and then a final layer of dough. Place in a steamer and steam for three-quarters of an hour.

Bohemian Cream—Four ounces any kind of fruit, one pint cream, gelatin, sugar.

Stone the fruit and sweeten to taste. Pass it through a sieve, adding one and one-half ounces of gelatin to every half pint of fruit. Mix well, then whip the cream and add the gelatin and fruit gradually to it. Pour all in a mold, set it on ice or where it is cool, and when set dip the mold a moment or two into water, and then turn it out ready for the table.

Fried Cucumbers—Three cucumbers, two eggs, salt, cracker crumbs.

Peel the cucumbers and cut in slices lengthwise. Beat the eggs good and dip the slices into them. Sprinkle with a little salt (and pepper if desired), and roll in cracker crumbs. Fry in hot grease to a golden brown. Serve immediately. Use rolling pin to crush crackers.

POTATO DISHES.

Potatoes au Gratin—Cut cold boiled potatoes into dice and then season with salt and pepper and place a layer in a baking dish. Sprinkle with finely minced onion, two tablespoons of finely minced parsley. Place in a second bowl and season, then pour over the last layer a layer of cream. Bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes.

Potato Custards—Rub one cup of mashed potatoes through a fine sieve into a bowl and add one cup of milk, one well-beaten egg, one teaspoon of salt and a pinch of mace. Mix thoroughly and then turn into a baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until firm, usually about 20 minutes.

Potato Dumplings—Grate four large cold boiled potatoes into a mixing bowl and add one and one-half cups of flour, one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one teaspoon of pepper, one small onion grated, three tablespoons of finely minced parsley, one egg and three tablespoons of water. Mix to a smooth dough and then form into balls the size of an egg. Drop into boiling water and cook for 15 minutes. Lift and drain well and serve with either brown stew or cheese sauce.

Alumbrum Cleanser—Dissolve 20 grams of borax in water and a third as much ammonia as you have of water. Shake well together, apply and polish until the white glittering effect is seen that is always on new aluminum articles.

GOOD FOR THE GANDER.

London.—While Richard and Mary Nash were celebrating their diamond wedding a maid brought some medicine to Mrs. Nash, who has been an invalid for 7 years. The aged woman took only part of it, whereupon her husband gulped down the rest.

"I always thought," he explained, "that it was good for the gander, and after all we are one."

GEORGETTE BLOUSE FOR SUMMER WEAR IS BEAD TRIMMED

By ELOISE.

The tunic blouse is with us. There is no use fighting it off any longer; even those women who will wear nothing but a one-piece frock or a suit will have to recognize it soon. Women who liked to call themselves bohemian and artistic took to the smock long ago, but few beyond that class ever changed the order of tucking the blouse inside the skirt. But the tunic blouse is here for a time anyhow and those who would be in style will wear their blouses on the outside.

It is true that there are some women who will never wear it. The stout woman will shrink at it and the short woman, unless she would look shorter, will also continue to tuck in her waist. But it can't be denied the tunic blouse is a practical garment for with one blouse one can wear several of these blouses one's summer wardrobe is practically complete. One of the nicest features of these blouses, however, is that they may be easily made by the woman who has any magic in her fingers.

The tunic blouse pictured will be found suitable for many summer occasions. It is sheer white georgette figured in daffodil yellow and green. Strands of green and yellow wooden beads edge the tunic and the short sleeves. The novel opening at the neck is also outlined in beads. A narrow green satin ribbon is tied about the waist with studied carelessness which is effective.

Few Who Prayed the First Town Dry Live to See National Prohibition

On top, scene in Hillsboro, Ohio, as it looks today. Center, left to right, "Mother" Thompson, founder of the W. C. T. U. and the movement to make the nation dry; Rev. W. J. McShure, pastor of the Crusade church; and Mrs. Saylor, one of the few surviving crusaders. saders. She was the founder of the W. C. T. U. and the movement to make the country dry. Another person who was helping lead the crusaders in their action against the saloons was Rev. W. J. McShure, pastor of the Crusade church in Hillsboro, Ohio. The crusaders met in front of the various saloons in the town—there were not more than three or four—and started praying. When out of business, the saloonists surrendered their stock and burned it in the public square. Mrs. Saylor is one of the few surviving crusaders who lived to see the nation go dry, thus completing what she and others attempted to do in 1873. She is now 94 years old.

Many years ago in 1873 to be exact, a group of people who called themselves crusaders started to "clean up" the town of Hillsboro, Ohio. It was

Bernard Shaw Delivers Diatribes Against Doctors

London—Physicians and surgeons are all wrong, and they've been backing up the wrong tree. George Bernard Shaw says so. He ridicules people who pay big fees "to be told their intestines are too long," declares vivisectionists who regard the human organism as a mere mechanical thing, or chemists who think of last chemical thing are idiots. Shaw thinks surgeons and physicians should study human anatomy from the biological aspect of life.

"Here am I, a mass of carbon and sodium," Shaw told a meeting organized to abolish vivisection. "There is any amount of these chemicals lying about. Now what has assembled them into this thing you see before you called Bernard Shaw? What is it that has taken them and holds them together in this strange and fantastic shape, making a curious noise, and getting them into this bone box, in which there is an amazing brain?"

"Imagine a man dealing with that miracle and imagining he can treat it as a mere mechanical or chemical thing. The thing is unconceivable. The man who does that ought to be ruled out, not merely of the medical profession, but of the sweeping of crossings."

Telegram Sent 16 Years Ago Still Undelivered

New York—Almost 16 years ago on November 8, 1903—Philip Lieberman sent a telegram to Samuel Kofler telling him to report for work at a prearranged salary of $20 a week. The telegram was sent from the Western Union Telegraph company's office at Forty-second street and Eighth avenue. It is still to be delivered. Kofler spent some time tracing the message without results and then sued the company for $1,000, because the non-delivery of the telegram caused him to lose his position. He obtained a verdict of $605 in 1904, but the judgment was not filed until eight years later. The company, in seeking to have the judgment set aside and a new trial ordered, states it never knew that the judgment had been filed and thought that the case had been discontinued. It transpired that many of the witnesses cannot now be found, and that the stenographer who took the testimony has since died without transcribing his notes.

In denying the motion for a new trial, Justice Benedict, in the Brooklyn supreme court, said: "This motion presents for consideration a situation which is most extraordinary as an exhibition of carelessness in practice and proceedings on the part of everyone concerned in the trial which took place in 1904 and in all the subsequent proceedings, on the part of all concerned, except the stenographer, who has since died without having transcribed the minutes of the trial. But that fact alone furnishes no ground for granting the relief asked, to wit, a new trial, upon the ground that it is now impossible to prepare a case on appeal. Motion denied."

Closed Shop Demand is Stumbling Block

[By Associated Press]
New York, July 22.—The closed shop demand of the striking seamen continues to be the stumbling block in the way of a settlement of the deadlock that has tied up coastwise trade for more than two weeks at this and other Atlantic ports. No prospect of overtures from the seamen's owners was possible, according to officers of the American Steamship association, who reiterated previous statements that questions of wages and hours of work could be adjusted, but that the owners would not agree to the closed shop principle. With both sides firm in their demand and no compromises, it appeared probable that the dispute must be referred to the department of labor division on mediation and conciliation.

SHARON AUTOISTS COLLIDE WITH TRAIN

Sharon, July 21.—While Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Baldwin and three children were crossing the railroad track near their home Sunday night, in their new car, they did not notice the seven o'clock passenger coming and ran into it. Mrs. Baldwin was driving and was unable to stop the car. The steps of three of the railroad cars were taken off while the auto had one wheel taken off and the fender, but the auto wasn't even tipped over. No one was hurt.

Miss Iolyn Chester and Dr. Herman Koch were quietly married at the home of the bride, Sunday morning by the Rev. E. C. Potter in the presence of a few near relatives. They left immediately for a trip through the northern part of the state in the doctor's roadster. They are both well and favorably known in town. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chester and was graduated from Sharon high school and Beloit college, and for the past year has been bookkeeper in the office of her father's elevator. The groom is also a graduate from the high school here and taking up medicine, was graduated from a Chicago school. He has just returned from overseas, where he has served in the medical corps. They have not decided where they will make their future home.

The Misses Jane Sherrill and Marjory Hoard autoed from Madison, Saturday to spend the week end with the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Hoard. Mrs. Hoard and Miss Made Sikes accompanied them back to Madison.

Rev. L. Woods, Jorreston, Ill., gave two excellent sermons at the English Lutheran church, Sunday.

Miss Virginia Shunk spent Saturday at her home in town. He has been a patient for the past 10 days at Mercy hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Flora Field and niece, Bernice Sarasy came out from Chicago, Saturday night.

Miss Elma Kelhoffer, Madison, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kelhoffer.

Fred Myers autoed to Janesville, Sunday to get his sister, Bessie, who had had her tonsils removed.

Mrs. Chester Clapp spent Sunday with relatives in Janesville.

Mrs. Henry Kompp went to Madison, Saturday to spend a few days with her niece, Mrs. Pan Hickok and family.

Miss Boness, a nurse from Mercy hospital spent Sunday at the home of her parents, north of town.

Miss Fama Arnold spent Sunday with her son, Willard and family at Beloit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mentzel and son, Earle, Chicago, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Weidauer.

Harry Saunders, Beloit, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Votes Contested.
La Crosse—Court proceedings have been started here to restrain the election inspectors of Rockland, this county, from certifying the results of a special election at which the matter of incorporating the village was carried by a vote of 29 to 26, from filing notice of a village election and from putting in operation a village government. Opponents of incorporation allege that three illegal votes were cast and that an attorney was working for the incorporators so confused two voters that they voted for incorporation when they intended to vote against it.

JANES CANCEL GAME WITH BLACKHAWKS

By George McManus.

SCORES OF FANS GLAD OF ACTION

Acting on the protests of a number of loyal fans, Manager James A. Murphy of the Lawrence Lunch Club has cancelled the scheduled game with the local Blackhaws for next Sunday. Unless other teams can be brought in, both teams will remain idle that day.

The decision to cancel the game had been raised against the Janes even considering a game with a team which has already been defeated by the local Ball. It is the feeling of the supporters of the city club that the Blackhaws are so far out-classed that the game would be nothing but a run-away.

The action came suddenly and unexpectedly. All final arrangements were practically completed, a side-bet of $100 was about to be placed, the Blackhaws were scouring the state for a pitcher and a couple of extra players, and the Janes were lined up in their usual order, with Sam Langquist on the firing line.

Rather than see the Janes lose bats with the Blackhaws, Murphy says he found his backers more willing to see the team remain idle Sunday, and so they will be, unless an out-of-town game can be arranged for Sunday. They were originally scheduled to play at Beaver Dam, but inability to secure the use of a diamond there necessitated the cancelling of this game. Murphy then accepted the challenge of the Blackhaws, who have been clamoring all year for a chance at the Janes.

WASHINGTON TEAM LOSES TO WEBSTER

The Webster senior baseball team won a victory over the Washington senior team last night by a score of 16 to 10, in an exciting game of 11 innings at the Webster grounds. Two home runs were made by the Webster team, one by Dawson in the second inning, and the other by Johnny Cullen in the eleventh.

The game became exciting when the Webster which had been behind by one point for a few innings, in the ninth inning made one run, thus tying the score. Two cup the climax, in the tenth inning both teams made two runs and the score was tied. Then the Webster easily won by making six runs in the eleventh inning.

Dawson added some good catching throughout the game. The lineups were as follows:

Washington: Junson, c; Larna, 1b; Wilson, p; Holcomb, ss; Stevens, rf; O'Donnell, 3b; Schuler, 2b; Dabson, cf; Fredendall, lf.

Webster: Dawson, 1b; Dickerson, p; Junson, c; Clark, 1b; Don Dawson, p; James Kelley, Ray-Cullen, cf; Leary, 3b; Sheridan, 2b; Gokey, ss; John Cullen, rf.

The senior Jefferson team won from the senior Adams team by a score of 28 to 14. The game was played at the Adams ground. The lineup for the Jefferson team was as follows: Reuther, c; Nuzum, 1b; Scoville, 2b; Pierson, 3b; Brecher, lf; Nuzum, c; Lowrie, rf. The Adams lineup was composed of the following: Townsend, c; Moore, p; Bailey, ss; Oas, 1b; Wilcox, 2b; Babcock, 3b; Gardner, lf; Lein, cf; Logerman, rf.

The Webster will play the Washington tonight in junior baseball and dodgeball at the Webster grounds, and the Adams will play the Jefferson in junior baseball and dodgeball at the Adams grounds.

ALL-STARS WILL MEET SAMSON NINE TONIGHT

The All-Stars will play their first twilight game of the season when they cross bats with the Samson Tractors at the new Samson park at 7 o'clock this evening. The game is the first of a three-game series. Bick will work in the box in the absence of Hager, who will be out for several days on account of an injury to his throwing arm. The rest of the line-up will remain the same.

The Stars will journey to Charley Bluff Sunday to meet the Milton Junction Crescents in the third and deciding game of the series. Fans who wish to accompany the team are asked to notify either Bevo Bick or Ted Hager and truck accommodations will be provided. The game will be the chief attraction of three picnics there Sunday—the Edgerton, Janesville and Milton Junction Foresters.

Walter Grad has handed in his resignation from the All-Stars team because of playing difficulties. It has been accepted.

BRINGING UP FATHER

PHILLY CATCHER IS SLATED FOR TRADE

Forrest Cady.

According to the dope from Philly, Catcher Cady is to be put on the market. Cady, Woodward and Packard were fined recently for boisterous conduct in the bleachers during a game at the time Jack Coombs resigned as manager of the club. Cady has refused to pay his fine. President Baker says the fine stands, so Cady probably will be disposed of some way.

Wilbur Copper not only shut the Giants out for the first time this season recently, but he gave a very remarkable performance, only one feature of which was that he knocked McGraw's men out of first place. He had the Giants popping up all afternoon, so that 20 of the 27 putouts were registered on fly balls. Two Giants struck out and only five assists were made by the Pirates. Copper gutting out the Pirates, Terry, the shortstop, had only two assists, both of them in the ninth inning. Cutshaw, at second base, and Caton on third, made only one apiece. Only two members of the Giant array hit safely, Fred Toney nailing two hits and Al Baird the other.

Much of the Cincinnati Reds' success is due to the remarkable pitching of Dutch Reuther, a young left hander. Reuther first made his appearance with the Chicago Cubs two years ago, but was released because he lacked confidence and control. Matty Moran, leader of the Reds, tried to improve him last year, but failed for the same reason. Moran, however, has labored patiently with Reuther ever since the spring training trip last March with the result that the youngster now can put the ball through a keyhole. Reuther is powerfully built and has a fast ball which is winning most of his games.

Chamber of Commerce Reorganized. Manitowoc—Business men are still busy in their drive for the reorganized chamber of commerce and indications are that the new body will start with a charter membership of 300. It had been hoped to reach the 500 mark but the unwillingness of the small business men to go again a proposition which has proven a failure in this city in a number of previous efforts will tend to reduce the charter membership. The fee has been placed at $25.

SPORT SNAP-SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE.

My Myers of the Robins is making desperate efforts to be crowned this season's champion batsman of the National league. Uncle Robbie's sprinting outfielder recently started a batting spurt that has carried him in front of Pop Young, Claude Williams, Benny Kauff, Billy Southworth, Zack Wheat and other sluggers who crack out basehits with great consistency in the ball parks of the Heydler circuit. Hy's spirit has brought him right up on the heels of the veteran Cactus Cravath, who for several weeks has been out in front in the race for the batting honors.

The new leader of the Phillies is leading by a safe margin, and it is not likely that he will be ousted out of first place in the immediate future, but will his responsibilities of piloting the Quaker City club affect his stick work? This will be answered as the season goes along. Cravath is now the only playing manager in either league, and if he is anxious to stay in the fight for the batting laurels he will have to continue playing. If he should decide that the combination of playing and leading the club is too much of a burden, he would automatically eliminate himself from the race. If Cravath stopped playing now or after he has taken part in a few more games, he might have the best average at the end of the season, but he would not be considered a regular, and he therefore would suffer the same as Billy Southworth did last winter when the time arrived to decide who the batting king was. Southworth's average was higher than any other National league batter, but he had taken part in only 64 games and was not considered a regular. Zack Wheat, who played in 15 games and who had a batting average of .335, which was six points lower than Southworth's figures, received the title.

But if Jack Coombs' successor decides to remain in the game as a player, he will travel at high speed in order to retain his present advantage over the younger swatters. Pep

Young, the favorite of the Polo grounders, is threatening the Robin for the runner up position.

Milton "Mule" Watson, the big right hander who was released by the Philadelphia club, has remained in the Quaker City, where he is now pitching for a team representing a big industrial plant. The Mule has been tried twice—once in St. Louis and once in Philadelphia—and he was found wanting in both instances. Just what it is the big fellow wants it is hard to tell—except that he evidently does not want to be a major league pitcher.

Wilson, like several other promising hurlers who have gone before, has found everything on the primrose path more desirable than treading the straight and narrow way. Possessing a word of stuff and a powerful arm with which to propel that stuff, Watson lacks judgment in an alarming degree. He might have been a great pitcher, but now he's a sand lot buster.

The largest rifle tournament ever attempted in any country is to be held at Caldwell, N. J., this summer. A force of 700 bluejackets and marines are working night and day to complete the 150 target butts, which when finished will make the largest rifle range in the world. The construction of barracks and mess halls has been begun to accommodate the thousands of riflemen and visitors expected to arrive during the next six weeks.

In addition to the time honored Wimbledon and Leach cup matches several innovations have been planned. A small bore match with England, the entry of Canadian, Italian, French and Belgian teams and the return of the victorious A. P. P. rifle team give the big shoot an international aspect, and by the addition of trap shooting to the list of events hundreds of clay bird enthusiasts have been lured to the firing lines.

Although the navy is conducting the matches for the first time this year the army is to be represented by a huge exhibit filling 15 specially constructed buildings. A 700 foot spur track has been laid to accommodate the 14-inch long range gun that battered the German made Krupps into submission at Chaulnes and elsewhere. The small arms school, at which the admission is free, has drawn civilian and military organizations from every state in the union. An aviation meet has been arranged by Major General Charles T. Menoher, director of air service, who has shipped seven planes to Caldwell. Lieut. Col. William C. Harries, U. S.

M. C. has been appointed by Secretary Daniels as executive officer in recognition of his initiative and efforts to establish a chain of rifle ranges along the Atlantic coast. Major C. J. Shuler just returned from 23 months of service in France, bringing with him the Croix de Guerre with two palms and cross of the Legion of Honor, is adjutant of the matches, with Ensign N. T. Boiles, former commander of the navy rifle range at Virginia Beach.

ENGLISH NATION BECOMING SOBER

London.—The number of "drunks" during 1918 shows a marked decrease compared with 1915 when the Liquor Control board was established. For every 100 persons drunk in 1915, the following were convicted in 1918: Controlled areas 21; partially controlled 23; uncontrolled, 27. The grand total for England and Wales in 1918 was 29,075 as compared with 135,811 in 1915.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, July 22.—New upturns which took place in the value of corn today, resulted largely from the fact that hog prices had again risen to the record level, $22 a hundredweight. Dry not weather tended further to bulge bullish sentiment. On the bulge, however, profit-taking sales increased and there was a disposition to be cautious in view of the unsettledness of foreign exchange. Opening quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/2¢ higher, with September 1.03 to 1.04 and December 1.03 to 1.04, were followed by decided gains all around and then a general reaction.

Short covering was much in evidence later and the December delivery advanced to about the best price of the season. The close was strong, 1 1/2¢ to 2 1/2¢ not higher with September 1.04 1/2 to 1.05 and December 1.05 1/2 to 1.06. Oats were relatively weak because of hedging pressure and on account of absence of export buying. After opening 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ up, including September at 80 1/2 to 81, the market hardened to a little more, but then receded temporarily below yesterday's finish.

Provisions reflected the strength of hogs and corn.

minor rails, steels, equipments and specialties. United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, American Car, General Electric, American Wire, Studebaker, United Cigars and Tobacco Products registered extreme gains of 2 to 4 points.

Leaders hovered later, reacting 1 to 2 points but rallied again in the final dealings on heavy buying of oil. The close was strong.

Wall Street Review.
New York, July 22.—Vigorous rallies in the stock exchange, causing the rebound interest and buying of steel, tinco and their accessories and equipments and shippings. Metals, food shares and the chaps, all participated more moderately, the entire list undergoing a pronounced change from its early uncertain aspects. The extent of the rally ranged from 2 to 7 points, trading becoming more active and broader as the market improved. Exchange on London was lower, but the money market was relatively easy, call loans opening at 8 to 10 percent.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, July 21.—Gilbert Gilbertson, who lives a short distance northwest of the village, escaped severe injury when the team with which he was working became frightened and ran away. It appears that the pole of the rake slipped out of the neckyoke, throwing the driver to the ground and in front of the teeth of the rake. In this position he was dragged for some distance, receiving several severe cuts and bruises. The horses soon cleared themselves from the rake, thus preventing further and more serious injury. The usual fans, and then some, went to Janesville, Sunday, to witness the ball game. They report that "Footie" didn't have on their playing clothes" and was nosed out of the game without making a score. Deloss Reynolds, who was one of the original five who enlisted from Orfordville, and joined Company M at Janesville, has just returned from overseas, and has received his discharge. He visited his Orfordville friends Saturday. A. M. Rokenbrodt, Avalon, accompanied by his family, in the village for a short time Sunday. Melvin Poss returned from overseas and received his discharge at Camp Grant the latter part of the week and returned home Saturday.

Cary and wife of Brodhead visited their parents, P. J. Lee and wife, Sunday.

MAGNOLIA

Magnolia, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watkins and children of Mendota, Ill., were over-Sunday guests of local, Bird and family. The "Helpers" union meets Thursday afternoon with Mrs. William Levzow. Funeral services for Mrs. Herman Smith were conducted from the A. C. church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. Bird. Interment in the East Magnolia cemetery. Mrs. Lottie Edwards and mother, Mrs. Caroline Clarke, Evansville, came Sunday to visit her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Harper. Alfred Acheson, Montrose, S. Dak., spent several days last week at the Glen Clark home. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Andrew entertained their children Sunday. Ray Morgan returned with George Andrew to Harvard to assist him there with work this week. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wells entertained company from Janesville Sunday afternoon. Glen Clark and family and Alfred Acheson spent Sunday with T. P. Harper. Mr. Acheson remained to visit his sister and other relatives.

NOOZIE

IT'S A TERRIBLE FEELING TO FEEL LIKE POETRY AND GET STUCK WITH A WORD YOU CAN'T POETIZE -

THE WISHING PLANE

The day for the children's party dawned bright and clear. The morning seemed awfully long to the children at the castle. For the little folks invited it was a very short morning. Many of them lived miles away, and they had to get all dressed up to leave right after noon, for the long ride to the castle. Their fathers arranged among them to take the little folks to the party in large wagons. The men who lived near the ends of the roads around the castle hitched up their wagons and, taking their own children, started down the road, stopping at each house to get the other children. By the time these wagons arrived at the castle they were full of laughing, happy kids. Jane and Peanne and Jack were all dressed up, and waiting for the first load to come. The queen and king saw to it that the party was started just as were the big affairs given in their honor. Jane and Peanne and Jack were the throne, too, and did not mind the fact that no chair had been provided for him. Two of the little folks who lived on the castle grounds were attendants. One by one they brought in the guests and very formally introduced them to Jane and Jack and Peanne. Each insisted on shaking hands with all of them, too, and when not offering to shake hands, sat up on his hind legs as cute as could be. Loads and loads of the children came. In an hour the big ball room was just about filled with them. After everybody had come, the three little folks came down from the throne of course and the real party began. There were all kinds of games. Jack and Jane know some of the games, of course, for they had played them before with the children. They soon learned the other ones. Then Ladydear and the queen taught them new games that they had played when they were little folks. No one would have thought by the way the queen and Ladydear laughed and played with the children that the queen had seen years and years of anxiety and that Ladydear had spent three years at the battle front during the war nursing wounded soldiers. They really had just as good a time as the children.

After games galore several of the children sang songs and recited pieces which they had learned for school and church doings. Then came the supper. And such a supper. There was everything that a little boy or a little girl would like to eat. And ordinarily most fathers and mothers couldn't care about having their little folks eat quite so many fancy things as the children had. Of course, some of the tots at the party were just weeny tiny little folks just about able to walk and talk. They had a table all by themselves, and bread and milk to eat with just such cookies and goodies as wouldn't hurt them. Or course there were favors—something for each little boy and girl to take home. First of all there were cups. These cups were wrapped tightly and to get them out of the packages you had to pull two strings. When you pulled the strings there was a loud snap like a fire-cracker. I haven't room to tell you what the other favors were. Copyright, 1919.

Paris, Monday, July 12.—The American relief administration has received a message from Major Joseph Green, who is in the Armenian relief, saying the Georgian government has placed an embargo on supplies passing through Georgia for the Armenians. This embargo has lasted more than a week and the Georgian officials show little disposition to raise it. As a result of this embargo hunger threatens many sections of Armenia despite the supplies which the Americans have made available.

Milk 25 Cents a Quart; Farmers Say No Profit

Dennis, Mass.—Milk is selling at 25 cents a quart on Cape Cod. It's 25 cents a quart when called for. And the farmers declare there is no profit in milk at 25 cents a quart.

The reason, they say, is that in years gone by Cape Cod farmers used to cut sedge on the marshes as food for the cattle. Very few of them do this now. Consequently they must get their hay and grain from the west. There has been an enormous advance in the cost of these commodities.

TERRIBLE TESSIE

CAINVILLE CENTER

Cainville Center, July 21.—Charles Gibson has returned to his home in South Dakota. While here he purchased the Ben Mapes farm east of Evansville, the price being $185 per acre. Alfred Acheson of South Dakota, is here visiting relatives and friends. The "Helpers" union will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. William Levzow.

The weekly prayer meeting will be held at the church Wednesday evening. Roger Watkins and family of Mendota, Ill., motored here for a visit at the Rev. W. C. Bird home.

The next regular meeting will be held Friday evening, July 26. A. F. Townsend and wife, Hosea Townsend, Eva Townsend and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meeks, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Andrews. Art Wells is painting the Cainville store.

The state botanist of New York has been very successful in securing remarkable photographs of wild flowers, and the results were accomplished by building a glass cage which he placed over the flower being "taken." This enabled him to make a prolonged exposure without the possibility of the subject being disturbed by the wind.

$55 FOR NAPOLEON'S BED London.—A Chippendale canopy bedstead used by Napoleon III while in exile has been sold at public auction at Wikon for $55.

OWN YOUR HOME IT IS READY FOR YOU

This is Your Opportunity to Own Your Home--Read--Act and Become Independent

We have three well located houses for sale: two of which have just been completed and ready for immediate occupancy. One is located on the corner of Park Ave. and Galena St., and the other two face on Galena St., opposite the Fourth Ward Park, only four blocks from the site of the new high school, but six blocks from Milwaukee St., straight back of the Grand Hotel.

They are well located, placed on large lots, surrounded by beautiful shade trees, cement sidewalks all in, nice lawns, gardens, good driveways, etc., etc. They are about the same in number of rooms, etc., but vary in shape and style.

We all know that present day prices are very high and building materials are very hard to get even at ever-soaring prices. The materials for these houses were bought some time ago and naturally at much lower than present day prices. The mechanics who built these houses are mostly our own men. In other words we dare say that it would cost from 20 to 25% more to build them today. We are positively giving you the advantages of all these things and fully believe that we are offering you THE BEST HOME BUY OF YOUR LIFE WHEN WE OFFER THEM AT

$5500.00 EACH

Cash in full; or, $2500.00 cash, and a good 3-year term mortgage on balance—with privilege of paying part each interest date.

These substantial houses are modern in every respect; all the materials to build them (bought right here in Janesville), are the very best obtainable. You will find only the very best and the highest class of workmanship throughout. Each and every mechanic who has helped to construct them will gladly vouch that they are built with only the best materials and by the most skilled workmen.

Basement under entire house, fine cement floors, laundry in basement, the famous Holland furnace, best hardware used throughout, etc., are some of the many good features of the lower section of house.

Three large rooms and reception hall on the first floor; oak floors, oak finish throughout, large windows of modern type, plate glass front doors, etc., etc.

Three good sized rooms, hall and bath on second floor, large medicine cabinet with double plate glass French mirror door, roomy closets, etc.

We can safely say that these homes will compare most favorably with homes of the much more expensive style.

Next to Your Loved Ones—A Home is the Most Precious Thing to Have—To Own. Owning a home brings a sense of responsibility that truly makes life worth living. It is the one material possession that is well worth all the sacrifice that is necessary to obtain it. "Home is where the heart is." Own your own home.

These homes are all ready for your inspection. In justice to yourself, you should at least see these new homes. Phone for an appointment.

AUSTRIANS GIVEN COMPLETE CONDITIONS OF PEACE OF ALLIES

Paris, Monday, July 21.—Austria's delegates to the peace conference today had in their hands for study the complete conditions of the allies. The main points of the Austrian treaty are:

Austria will be granted a slice of Hungarian territory between the Danube and Julo-Slovakia in the region of Udemburg and Stein.

Czechoslovakia will be granted a bridgehead on the south bank of the Danube facing Pressburg, thus gaining access to two railroads running southward.

Austria will be granted a strip of Czechoslovakia near Gmund and along the Moravia railroad.

The Austrian army will be limited to 100,000 men, supplied by one munitions plant.

Czechoslovakia, Poland Roumania, and Jugoslovakia are to bear $26,000,000 of the former dual monarchy's war debt. The Czechs are to pay half and the balance is to be levied among the other three powers.

These states must also meet a portion of Austria's pre-war public debt as well as certain other financial liabilities.

Conference experts agree that the war leaves Austria absolutely bankrupt and that the allies will have to re-organize her economically and financially.

The biggest questions now outstanding are:

1.—The settlement of Turkey's new frontiers and the status of that nation.

2.—The Adriatic problem.

No definite agreement has been reached regarding the proposal to expel all of the Turks from Europe.

LAND OF INSANE KING IS UNDER NEGOTIATION

Berne, Saturday, July 19.—It has been learned from a reliable source that the Bavarian government is negotiating with former King Ludwig, who for several months has been residing at Zizers, capital of the Canton of Glaron, for a legal settlement of his landed property in Bavaria.

It is said that the former king possibly would be permitted to retain one of his Bavarian castles as a place of retreat.

Ludwig III was given permission by the Swiss government last April to cross into Switzerland and take up his residence at Zizers. A dispatch from Geneva in May, Ludwig was showing signs of insanity, which is hereditary in the former royal family. It was declared that during violent fits Ludwig declares that Bavaria won the war and that he designed to return to Munich in triumph at the head of his victorious army. A more recent dispatch asserted that the income of the former Bavarian monarch, which once averaged about $1,250,000 annually, had been seriously reduced as a result of the war.

The Laziest Man Ever— Didn't Want to Crank Car

Atlanta, Ga.—And now the laziest Lawson Collier, an actor, was coming into Atlanta when he overlooked an old Ford car stopped by the roadside. The occupants were in an animated conversation. Thinking he might be of assistance, Collier stopped and asked if he could help.

"You might pull us down the road a piece to start my Ford," said the tired-looking owner.

Collier backed up, pulled out a piece of rope and pulled the Ford about 50 yards, and then asked what the trouble was.

"Oh, nothing at all," said his neighbor. "This car won't want to take the trouble to crank it."

AND HE DID

IT SAYS HERE THAT ALCOHOL IS A FINE GERM KILLER. I'LL TRY IT!

AND HE DID.

Around the State
